Reflection for Sunday

Recall that last week's parable of the talents taught us that the gifts that we have been given are intended to be used for the service of others, especially the least among us. Our judgment before God will be based not only on how we have used these gifts and talents, but also on how we have extended ourselves in service to these least ones. Indeed, Jesus tells us that whenever we have served these least ones, we have served Christ himself.

When we read today's Gospel in the context of the chapters that follow in Matthew's Gospel, we learn the extent to which Jesus identifies with the least ones. In accepting death on the cross, Jesus shows himself to be one of the hungry, the naked, the ill, and the imprisoned. To accept Jesus is to accept him who suffered and died on the Cross as one of the least ones.

Heavenly Father, Who through Your Son, Jesus Christ, regenerates and redeems all of the faithful, hear our prayer for those who have passed from this life. Grant unto the souls of Your faithful servants the remission of all their sins. May they, who have placed their hope and trust in You, obtain Your pardon and eternal rest. Reward them with the promise of their faith, through the same Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen. May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.
